FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BROECKELMAN IS AWARDED 2010-2011 CCA SCHOLARSHIP

Topeka, Kansas – April 14, 2010 – Jonathan Broeckelman of Hoxie, Kansas is the 2010-2011 Certified Crop Advisor (CCA) scholarship winner. Broeckelman was selected for this scholarship by the Kansas CCA board out of a group of very qualified candidates. “His academic excellence, and career objectives are what set Broeckelman apart,” said Sarah Sexton-Bowser, director of the Kansas CCA program.

Broeckelman is planning on attending Kansas State and studying agronomy. He has grown up on a farm and for the past few summers worked for a local agricultural producer around the Hoxie area. His career objective upon graduation is to become a crop advisor and member of the CCA program to provide assistance to producers in northwest Kansas.

The Kansas CCA is a professional certificate for agronomist throughout the state. To become a CCA, individuals must pass both a state and national test, and maintain certification through continuing education. To find a CCA in your local community go to: www.kansasag.org/kara and click on CCA.
