FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SMITH IS AWARDED 2009-2010 CCA SCHOLARSHIP

Topeka, Kansas – March 30, 2009 – Preston Smith of Weskan, Kansas is the 2009-2010 Certified Crop Advisor (CCA) scholarship winner. Smith was selected for this scholarship by the Kansas CCA board out of a group of very qualified candidates. “His academic excellence, and career objectives are what set Smith apart,” said Sarah Sexton-Bowser, director of the Kansas CCA program.

Smith is currently attending Kansas State in the college of agriculture. This past summer he did an internship with Crop Quest Agronomic Services in Dodge City, Kansas. His career objective upon graduation is to become a crop advisor and member of the CCA program.

The Kansas CCA is a professional certificate for agronomist throughout the state. To become a CCA, individuals must pass both a state and national test, and maintain certification through continuing education. To find a CCA in your local community go to: www.ksagretailers.org and click on CCA.
